PPMA Accredited Wood-Destroying Insects Inspector Program

The Pennsylvania Pest Management Association is pleased to announce that it will be conducting a three-day training and exam session for individuals interested in becoming PPMA Accredited Wood Destroying Insect Inspectors.

This course was the first of its kind in the United States, has been copied by many states, and Hundreds of PMPs have become accredited. Those who have passed all the requirements for AWDII accreditation are the cream of the crop among WDI inspectors.

The dates for the course are February 25-27, 2015, and the place Marriott Courtyard, 1931 Hospitality Drive, Lancaster, PA 17601. Call 717-393-3600 for hotel reservations

The cost: $325.00 per attendee. Morning snack & lunch provided. Send all payments to PPMA. Call Debbie Chappell at 717-635-2320 regarding credit card payments. All study material provided.

The first two days of the program will cover the material contained in the course manual, which will be sent to you in e-format. The morning of the third day will be a review, and the afternoon of the third day is the Hour of Reckoning: the administration of the 5 exams that will measure the attendee's mastery of the course material. Hundreds have passed: you can, too!

Seating is limited, so sign up today. PDA Update Credits available for each day, Cat 12.

Individuals who have attended a past session, and want to re-take the exams, are encouraged to attend the Feb 27 review. A $75.00 fee will apply to those individuals.
