AT CITY YEAR, WE BELIEVE EDUCATION HAS THE POWER TO HELP EVERY CHILD REACH HIS OR HER POTENTIAL

However, in high-poverty communities there are external factors and obstacles students are faced with every day that can interfere with their ability to both get to school and be ready and able to learn.

City Year works to bridge the gap in high-poverty communities between the support that students actually need and what their schools are designed and resourced to provide. In doing so, we're helping to increase graduation rates across the country and changing the lives of the students we serve.

At City Year's 26 locations across the United States and two international affiliates, highly trained young adults, our AmeriCorps members, work full-time in schools for 11 months providing individualized supports to at-risk students. We partner with schools and districts to identify students who are at risk of not graduating on time with their peers, and provide them with extra academic, emotional and social support and skills that they need to be successful for college and a career.

WHAT YOU'LL DO

PROVIDE one-on-one or group tutoring before, during and after school to help students work through their academic challenges.

RUN afterschool clubs and service projects to give students a positive and safe activity to participate in.

LEAD energetic morning greetings for the whole school to create more encouraging learning environment.

TAKE ATTENDANCE and call late or absent students to encourage them to come to school.

MAKE positive phone calls home to fill parents and family in on the progress that's being made.

ORGANIZE and lead activities, celebrations and projects to improve the school and community as a whole.
